

Midwest Book Review

Small Press Bookwatch: March: 2006
James A. Cox, Editor-In-Chief
Midwest Book Review
278 Orchard Drive, Oregon, WI 53575

Reviewer's Choice

Older Love

Warren Hanson
Waldman House Press
2300 Louisiana Avenue North, Suite B, Golden Valley, MN 55427
0931674409 $16.96 www.waldmanhouse.com

Though Older Love is written and presented in the style of a picturebook, with gentle two-color illustrations and only a verse or two on each page, Older Love is not meant specifically for children or beginning readers, but rather for readers of all ages, as it celebrates the joy of a golden years relationship. The text is a poem about bonds that transcends age, and the illustrations have a soft and inviting quality to them. An excellent and heartwarming giftbook. "Older Love is hands and hearts and souls as they unite / every morning, every evening, / everyday and every night. / Like the sun and moon and stars that light the heavens up above, / these two lives will shine together, / with the glow of Older Love."

mwbookrevw@aol.com
www.midwestbookreview.com